

THIS IS "STARTLING!"

JUDGE JAMES P. HARBESON'S RECORD AS A "SALARY GRABBER."

He Was Elected Judge of Fleming and Sued the County for More Pay—He Also Levied a $3 Polltax Contrary to Law.

James P. Harbeson, Democratic candidate for Judge of the Nineteenth Judicial District, is somewhat of a "corporation lawyer" himself, for he was attorney for the railroad which runs from Johnson Junction to Hillsboro, passing through Flemingsburg.

The only reason that he isn't more of a "corporation lawyer" is that there are no other corporations in his neighborhood to employ him.

But he is something more than a "corporation lawyer."

He is a "salary grabber!"

When he was elected Judge of the Fleming County Court the salary of the office was $500 a year.

Mr. Harbeson made the race with a full knowledge of that fact.

He entered into a contract with the people of his county that he would serve them as Judge for $500 a year.

And yet, after he was secure in his office,

He actually sued the county for $250 additional salary!

The Jury before which the case was tried awarded him the sum of $25 and he accepted it—thus virtually acknowledging the injustice of his larger claim.

Further than this, Mr. Harbeson has proven himself an autocrat.

While he was County Judge of Fleming he made a levy of $3 polltax on every man in the county.

And this was done in spite of the fact that the Constitution of the state limits the polltax to $1.50 a head.

When Mr. Harbeson's attention was called to the matter he stubbornly refused to recede from his position, declaring that the Constitution was not in force.

And it was not until the Governor and Attorney General were consulted that the people of Fleming county were freed from the possibility of paying an unconstitutional tax.

Thus Mr. Harbeson stands before the people of the Nineteenth Judicial District as

A corporation lawyer;

A salary grabber;

An autocrat.

Do the taxpayers of the District think their interests will be subserved by placing the judicial machinery in his hands?

We have always considered the office of Circuit Judge of sufficient importance to inspire all fair-minded and order-loving men with a desire to hold the place, and, as far as is consistent, the occupant also, above even the suspicion that political influences could pollute that ermine which should everywhere be regarded as the palladium of justice between man and man.

With this view we have even refrained in the contest now before us from commenting upon the official acts of Judge James P. Harbeson, although it is universally conceded that such acts, for manifest reasons of public policy, are at all times open to fair criticism and public consideration.

Hence thus far we have not said one word concerning the fact that he, as the Presiding Judge of the Fleming County Court of Claims, at a session held since the adoption of the new Constitution for this state,—which expressly prohibits the levying of a polltax exceeding $1.50 to the individual,—not only favored a levy of $3, but persistently refused to reconvene the Magistrate to annul the illegal assessment until after he had gone to Frankfort to consult the Governor and Attorney General.

Nevertheless some of his adherents in this race point to him as a profound exponent of the law and a friend of the common people.

Neither have we alluded to the breaking of good faith by him with his constituents in his election to the office of County Judge of that county by his promising when a candidate, as his neighbors and even political friends claim, that he would serve in such official capacity for $500 per annum, and immediately after getting the place sued the county for $750, succeeding at the end of an expensive litigation in securing an increase of $25 over the $500 already awarded him according to agreement.

And yet he sympathizes with the poor taxpayer, so they tell you.

As properly and significantly reflecting upon his judicial equities and peculiar fitness for such an exalted trust, we have not recalled to the many friends and acquaintances of the lamented Judge Andrews that Judge Harbeson, while clothed with temporary authority as Special Judge of the Fleming Circuit Court, saw proper to inflict upon that venerable gentleman a fine for a supposed contempt of court, which act of authority was carried unforgotten to the grave by the one who sustained it and always claimed it to have been uncalled for and unjust. These things are plain, unvarnished truths that address themselves in unmistakable terms to the sober contemplation of every thoughtful citizen of this Judicial District.

THE DIPHTHERIA.

The Physician's State There is No Cause for Alarm—An Investigation.

In pursuance of a request made by the County and City Board of Health, each physician of Maysville was asked to report all cases of diphtheria under his professional care.

Dr. Pickett—"I have no cases of diphtheria. There is no cause for great alarm."

Dr. Cartmell—"I have no cases of diphtheria. There is no epidemic now, nor has Maysville, to my knowledge, ever had an epidemic of diphtheria."

Dr. A. G. Browning—"I have two cases on Front street, Fifth Ward, convalescing, another in Fifth Ward that may not turn out to be diphtheria. This is not an epidemic."

Dr. Smoot—"I have no diphtheria; there is unnecessary alarm over the subject."

Dr. Adamson made no report.

Dr. Reed—"I have one case on West Second street that is convalescing. It is no unusual thing to find at this season an occasional case of diphtheria. There is no epidemic."

Drs. Strode & Samuel—"We have one case convalescing. There is no epidemic of the disease in our city and no reason for excitement."

Dr. Pangburn—"I have one case in Sixth Ward."

Dr. Phillips—"I have a case of diphtheria in my practice."

Dr. Shackelford—"I have a case of diphtheria in my own family. It is a light attack and the little patient is convalescing."

Dr. Pollitt—"I have no diphtheria at all in my practice."

Dr. Phister—"I have three cases in one family on Grant street. It is no unusual occurrence to find diphtheria at this season in any town along the Ohio Valley. There is no epidemic in this city."

Dr. O'Brien—"I have no case of diphtheria."

Dr. Yazell—"I have two cases in Sixth Ward and they are convalescing."

Dr. Stevens—"I have but a single case and there is no cause of alarm."

From the intelligent source from which the above information has been obtained, there certainly seems to be no reason for alarm.

The one fact is apparent, no epidemic of diphtheria has ever visited our city. The reports gone out are unwarranted when compared with the facts and evidence obtained above. It was an unfortunate coincidence that in almost half of the fatal cases the deaths occurred within a few hours of each other.

However appalling that one day may appear, the mortality, so far as diphtheria is concerned, is no greater for 1892 than it was for 1891.

In the published report of the deaths occurring in the city of Cincinnati or of Louisville scarcely a day goes by but that diphtheria is named on the list of casualties. It is read with composure and with no great alarm.

The city of Maysville is in a good sanitary condition. Every physician knows his duty in the premises and the public can rest assured that an epidemic of diphtheria will not occur.

The City Board with the County Board of Health investigated the subject and find no reason for closing schools, interrupting any daily business or pursuit in the city of Maysville.

PROCEES Before Leaving Home.

Three years ago, while I was visiting relatives at Higginsville, Mo., I was suddenly taken with colic and severe pains in the stomach. My relatives sent me to the Doctor for medicine, and he sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, telling the bearer that if that medicine did not cure me he could not prescribe anything that would. I used it and was immediately relieved.—Henry A. Thofers. For sale by Power & Reynolds.

A BIG CLASH

May Occur in New York City Election Day.

The Police Force Instructed to Arrest United States Marshals

Who Attempt to Go Within the Guard Rail, as They Violate a State Law—Chairman Harberty Will Await Legal Opinions Before Taking Action.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—There was more talk about John I. Davenport than anything else around the political headquarters of both parties Friday morning. Most of the politicians have given up prophesying and claiming—it is too near election day for that—and instead they were discussing the sensational possibilities of a big clash between federal and state authorities on next Tuesday. None of the chiefs will admit that they anticipate any trouble. Nevertheless the republicans say the federal supervisors and deputy marshals will go anywhere around the polling booths that they deem necessary, and the democrats say that if the marshals do they will be ejected by force and arrested if they resist.

It is understood that the police of this city will be instructed to arrest all federal marshals, etc., who attempt to go within the guard rail.

The democratic campaign managers claimed Friday morning that the republican district leaders have received instructions that if certain voters can not be intimidated an effort shall be made to convince them by the "Dudley form of argument."

Democratic national committeemen would say little about the federal marshals at the polls, but it is understood that they fear trouble if the opinion of Attorney General Miller is acted upon.

The national committee approves the action of the state committee in advising citizens to arrest marshals who violated the state law, and it is likely that Chairman Harberty will be heard from on this question before next Tuesday. He is now awaiting for certain legal opinions which he has asked.

The democratic national committee say that one result of this trouble over U. S. marshals will be to give the people a foretaste of the operations of the force bill, and thereby cause the loss of many votes to the republican party. At the republican national and state headquarters it was said that the marshals would certainly go within the rails at the polls, and that no authority, state or city, had any right to prevent them from so doing.

Chairman Carter, of the republican national committee, said Friday: "As it seems to me, this whole controversy is between Lieut-Gov. Sheehan and the United States government. I am confident that the United States government will be found capable of filling its duty towards the people in protecting them from the ballot-box frauds."

The republicans claim to have positive evidence that the democrats are going to attempt to carry the election in Indiana and that $150,000 has been sent to Indianapolis for the purpose of buying votes. At democratic headquarters the leaders profess to have no anxiety about the result in New York. They now count it as sure for Cleveland.

New Jersey is looked upon in the same way, and all of the southern states are figured upon for their old time majorities.

A Drifting Island.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 5.—The hydrostatic officers called the attention to the peculiar fact that a mass of forest growth resembling a large island and supposed to have drifted from some portion of the American continent had been sighted September 25 between the 20th and 30th meridian. The island travels at an estimate of over a mile an hour, going in a northeasterly direction. It is suspected that unless the plot is broken up by a storm it will drift to the routes taken by steamships and will eventually bring up on the American coast.

Georgia Registration Law Invalid. MANN, Ga., Nov. 5.—Acting for Judge Don Pardee, Judge Spoor, of the U. S. district court, rendered a decision declaring all registration laws in Georgia inoperative. He asserts that the law, in order to be constitutional, must be uniform. As at present laws are all local, they therefore are unconstitutional. The effect of this decision is to make every man in the state eligible upon taking oath that he has paid his taxes.

Broncho, Not Pleuro.

EDMUNDS, Nov. 5.—The farmers of Fifeshire and Forthshire will protest strongly against the slaughter of 1,300 head of cattle which the Huron and Monksieaton brought from Canada to Scotland, which the board of agriculture declared were infected with pleuropneumonia. Two eminent veterinary surgeons examined the lungs of two and pronounced the disease bronchopneumonia.

Mrs. Leader Gets Damages.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The jury gave a verdict Friday of £500 damages to Mrs. Leader in her suit for slander against Mrs. Smyth, who had accused her of the theft of a diamond brooch. Mrs. Smyth will also have to pay a large sum in costs. The majority of the court room were evidently pleased with the verdict and did not hesitate to show their approval.

Yardmaster Rupp Gives Ball.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.—John R. Rupp, the yardmaster of the Reading Railroad Co., to whose carelessness the coroner decided was due the fatal collision at Manayunk, October 24, has been arrested and taken to Norristown, where he gave bail for a hearing.

Strange Relationship.

KINGWOOD, W. Va., Nov. 5.—Weaver Messenger and Miss Etta Sheets were married here. By this marriage the bride becomes a sister-in-law to her stepmother, and the groom is a son-in-law to his own sister.
